Some one can make a fine fortune by establishing a lumber yard in Florence together with doors, sash, blinds, glass, paints, etc., and builder's materials gen, smally. There is now a strong demand for these articles and during the fall and winter a thousand buildings will be erected. The opportunity is an excellent one. The Mammoth mill is running steadily day and night, turning out the bright bullion. Mr. M. W. Derrig is the day en-inees and Mr. M. G. Ashbrook formely in charge of the electric light works in house in town, and a properly conducted natatorium would certainly derive an extensive patronage.

Shot in the Neck.

Nicholas White, who owns a ranch in Round Valley, about ten miles up the the river, was shot in the neck by unknown person about four o'clock Tuesday afternoon. He was riding down the road from near the headgate of the Florence canal, towards his house, and when the shot was fired he instinctively placed his hand to the wound and turned to the right. He saw Budd Doshier standthat he had fired the shot. He made his way to his house and was brought to town for surgical aid. Dr. Harvey found the the wound quite serious but not necesenrily fatal, the bullet having entered from the left side and passed around the frent of the windpipe, coming out upon

Budd Doshier was arrested Tuesday evening, and four Mexicans believed to be implicated were also taken to jail. The fact that Doshier was upon the right side of White and the surgeon's state-ment that the shot came from the left will doubtless cause the release of that gentleman upon examination.

The lamentable affair is surrounded with considerable mystery, but many express a belief that it was occasioned by the trouble existing between Messrs. White trouble existing between Messrs. and James Brash on account of the formsuits have grown out of it and considerable bad feeling is known to exist, but whether the matter has led to the present outrage is simply a conjecture time alone can demonstrate.

At all events the circumstance is to be deplored no matter what the provocation

Mr. White is a brother-in-law of Judge Charles Silent, of Los Angeles.

Oracle is becoming quite a famous summer resort, and visitors find excellent nmodations at the residence of Mr. E. S. Dodge, cosily situated under the broad oak trees that afford a welcome shade throughout that locality. Last week a party of visitors ascended Mount Lemon to the summit, the altitude being nearly ten thousand feet. There were in the party Mr. E. O. Stratton and family, Mrs. W. F. Kitt, Mrs. E. S. Dodge, Charles Stratton, Miss Freese and John Dodge. They found it very cold on the summit and thick shawls were comfortable. Ripe atrawberries and raspberries were picked along the mountain side and everything was a picture of life and beauty. A grand panorama was spread out before them from their high elevation, for a surrounding country of a radius of a hundred miles could be seen. Only once before did ladies attempt to ascend this grand peak and it was a feat that repaid the toil and trouble.

The Florence Ice and Water Company commenced sinking their huge supply well last Monday and it is going down towards water as fast as the diggers can sink it. It is 61 feet in diameter and when water is reached extensive drifts will be run to insure a bountiful supply. A pump of sufficient capacity will be put in and a large reservoir built from which the supply mains will be laid throughout the town. The well and reservoir are being erected upon the southern portion of the Douglass tract where Hon. G. H. Oury owns ten acres. It is on the southern limits of the present town, on Main street, from which there is a on Main street, from which there is a gradual fall towards the river. No better site for water works could be asked for, and at a very moderate cost the whole town can be supplied with manty of cool and wholesque water. The directors and officers of the company are: Hon, G. H. Oury, President; D. C. Stevens, Secretary; W. E. Guild, Treasurer; Aaron Mason and A. T. Colton.

Under Sheriff Hinson Thomas who has just returned from up the river, says the Indians of Eskiminzin, Pachine and Seg-ula's bands have all left their lands on the river and have gone into the mountains. They have taken their families and all their effects and the settlers say they are bent on mischief. They planted no crops this year and will probably re-ly upon plunder for their subsistence. About ten miles east of Saddle moun-tain a vaquero of Maish & Driscoll counted 150 heads of cattle that had been killed by the Indians. Nearly all the settlers have suffered losses to a greater extent than they are willing to acknowledge. As these Indians are off the reservation and have heretofore depended upon their own industry for support, their misdeeds will bring them clearly under the sole jurisdiction of the civil

Other parties who have come from that section later say the Indians have returned to their farms from the mountains where they gathered fruits and nuts and did a little hunting, but none of the settlers in their neighborhood are eager to go on their peace bonds not-withstanding their friendly professions.

Some means should be devised to put a stop to the fifthy practice of making sew-ers out of the ditches along the principal streets. All sorts of debris is dumped into them or thrown around the street corners to breed disease and the only wonder is that such good health is enjoyed by the people in spite of these baneful inufiences. The Sheriff has employed the chain gang to a good purpose in cleaning the ditches out quite frequently. but the care taken by many people to im-mediately fill them up with garbage neu-tralizes all the beneficial effects of his worthy efforts. If there is no remedy under existing regulations it is a proper time for a village or city organization to be effected to control this and other kiudred evils.

Mr. Ceo. W. Campbell returned from Kansas City on Monday, and brought his family with him. He will at once erect a dwelling house on the property he re-cently purchased and become a resident of Florence. Mr. Campbell says there are many thousands of eastern people who would gladly come to Arizona if proper and reliable representations were made to them concerning the advantages this Territory affords. He induced several visitors to the Pacific coast to stop over a few days at Florence to bear wit-ness to the fact that neither savage Indians nor wild outlaws always menace life and property.

No sooner was the Western Addition to Florence thrown open to sale than a dozen or two lots were purchased by persons who intend to build at once. Mesers. Oury & Guild are asking very low prices for these lots and give every one a chance to buy. Within three months every let will be worth three times its present price.

Some enterprising person would con-fer a blessing upon the public and at the same time make money by erecting a commodious swimming bath in Florence. While there is an abundance of water on nearly every street there is no bathing Express Robbery.

Wednesday night's west bound passen-ger train on the Sonthern Pacific road was held up by five train robbers near Papago station, fifteen miles east of Tucson, close to the scene of the former hold up. The gravel switch had been turned and the engine, cab and a few cars were derailed. The robbers fired many shots, but no one was hurt. The engineer, Jas. Guthrie and fireman R. T. Bradford, jumped down the embankment and escaped. The robbers then blew open the express car with a dymanite cartridge and beat messenger Smith over the head and compelled him to open the safe. Route agent Gault was also in the car. How much money was taken no one seems to know, but it is estimated that from $3000 to $5000 was taken. The mail car was also entered, but nothing was disturbed.

The robbers were bold and defiant and alked freely with those they met and when they left they proceeded to an adja-cent hill and held a consultation, after which they left in the direction of the Pursuit was at once organized, a party was on their trail six hours behind them. They discovered a quantity of Mexican silver and other booty that had been abandoned by the thieves and they have er's claims on the latter's ditch. Several a hope of running them down. The railroad and the Express companies have each offered $1000 reward for the apprehension of the robbers.

A Drummer Sold.

A commercial traveler was the victim of a case of mistaken indentity in Florence, the other day. While County Record er Bo. J. Whitesides was casually glancing over the Florence Hotel register the nusophisticated drummer accosted him with a bland invitation to proceed to his room, if his time would permit it. Upon reaching the room the drummer took out his book and wrote down the name of "Joseph Collingwood," a circumstance that revealed to the handsome Recorder that he was mistaken for Mr. P. Bamrick, the manager of the Collingwood establishment, a gentleman who bears a striking resemblance to Mr. Whitesides.

Resolving to humor the evident mistake for the new vein of fun it promised to develop, Mr. Whitesides assumed commercial airs and pretended to order an in-woice of goods. Numerous little presents were tendered him, among them a hand-ful of fragrant Mardi Gras cigars of exquisite flavor and quality, and when he grew weary of the masquerade he told the drummer of the mistake he had made, complimented him upon the good quality of the cigars proffered and bade him good

To say the drummer was mad expresses inadequately the expanse of passion that diffused itself throughout his agonized anatomy. He threatened the arrest of Mr. Whitesides for obtaining goods under false pretenses and exhausted every adjective and expletive at his command to how how terrible a thing it is for a drummer to get sold, but Mr. Whitesides smiled most blandly and reiterated that the cigars were really excellent.

Don't Experment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first, only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, but he can make the genuine. Because he can make the property of the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all throat, lung and chest affections. A letter recently received from an old Arizonian who is spending the summer in Iowa, states that he never suffered from the heat in Arizona as he does in Iowa, and that he hopes to return this fall or winter and thinks that from his experience there and in other states he will never again want to leave Arizona.

A terrible dust storm from the south swept over Tucson on Sunday afternoon It obscured the sun and created almost a total darkness for half an hour. An end of the same storm touched Floreace shout sundown and for a short time the dust was very dense. It is believed to have originated in California where a big boom run up real estate so high that an upper stratum of wind carried it over the mountains. Amongst the debris were stakes of recently surveyed lots in paper cities; uncanceled mortgages and great expectations from the citrus belt of Cali-

Mr. B. W. Connolly, the principal owner of the Crispin mine at Silver King, returned on Thursday from his trip to San Francisco. He intends to push not only the work of further development in the mine but has secured the Gem 10stamp mill on Queen Creek, a few miles away, which he will at once place in proper condition to work the Crispin ores, and he expects to make stockholders a fine dividend for a Christmas present. He is wished abundant success.

The people of Mammoth camp report the Oracle road through the canyon to be in almost impassable condition. The rains have washed it very badly and as it never was a good road its uses as a public thoroughfare are greatly lessened. It is suggested that the road from the Mammoth mill to the mine, three miles long, be further extended for a distance of two miles to intersect the | Oracle road, which would effect a saving of from three to ave miles and the heavy sand of the canyon would be avoided entirely. Now that the new law requires all the road tax to be apportioned according to the number of miles of road in each road district, the Mammoth residents should petition for the change in the route of this road when the overseer of their dis-trict will probably be empowered to build the desired cut-off.

Mr Bert Nye and his brother, formerly of Tombatone, were in Florence last Sat-urday on their way to Phenix where they intend to remain. Mr Nys conducted the Tombstone Democrat last winter during the time its proprietor, Mr. Bracewell, was in the legislature.
